MUNDARE SCHOOL

January has been full of so many different learning opportunities for our students. This month, all students participated in learning “virtually” for the first few days. This went incredibly well, but we were very happy to have them back under our roof on January 11th.

January is a time to set personal goals and reset our energy to move us forward as learners. At the end of January and in early February teachers will be engaged in professional learning opportunities. School Advisory Council and our School Society continue to meet virtually. I would like to thank those parents who made time to attend-even during the recent snow squall! Society has revamped it's charter. If you are interested, please go to our school website, and look under the parents tab.

Reading is something that you can enjoy as a family at home. It stirs up your imagination and sparks creativity. It's also a good way to give everyone a break from screen time (big screen or little screens). Take time each night-whether you have a child at school or not, to read. Our local libraries and even our home libraries are great resources to pursue this goal. Recently, I just re-read The testament by John Grisham. I enjoyed it the second time as much as the first. Before you know it, the amount of sunlight will increase and outdoor pursuits and just work around the house/yard will increase. Make the most of this time and don't forget to get outside if you can! As always, if you are interested, the school newsletter is posted the first week of each month on the first page of the website.

Important Dates for February.

February 3, early out (dismiss 1 hour early) February 4 & 5 no school (Teachers Convention)
